Fire Express™ Publishing Offers

Frequently Asked Questions

I want to take advantage of this offer, but I'm not sure what Designer Directed is. Will I have any say-so in the design and setup of my book, and if not, why don't I have any say-so?

Answer: Designer Directed means that the designer will head up the design only. Any packages that we label as Designer Directed™ are considerably less expensive than our traditional offers. We took the prices down by at least $100. When the client heads up the design, we end up spending more time and more money putting the design together. When we head up the design, we can control the costs and the time spent...not to mention, we get to show off our creativity. If you'd like more control over the design, please visit our Publishing Packages to find a package that is more suited for you.

I have one book that I would like to divide up into two books. Will I have to purchase this package once or twice?

Answer: Twice, of course. You're getting formatting for two books and even though they are part of a series, they are still recognized as two books.

With Designer Directed™ packages, how can I be sure that I will like the outcome of my book?

Answer: We can't make guarantees because each person has their own opinions and preferences, but what we will guarantee you is that your book will look great. We are professional formatters and cover designers, so you can trust our lead. Additionally, we haven't had one complaint as of yet.

I read that this is for a limited time only. How long will this offer be available?

Answer: Right now, we don't know. We are just testing the market with this offer, but please continue to check back for more information.

My book is already formatted. Will that decrease the price? What if I have my book cover already?

Answer: We do not accept previously formatted books because they often have to be reformatted. No, having a cover or already formatted book does not decrease the price. In addition, you cannot break this service up to be used with different books.

Why don't I get any copies of my book?

Answer: This package is not priced to allow books, HOWEVER, your book is made available online, and you can order copies at will for the wholesale price. If you'd like a package where you'd get copies of your books, please check out all of our publishing packages.

Will Anointed Fire™ list my book on their website for sell, and if so, how much money do you keep for selling it?

Answer: We sometimes do list the book on our website, but currently, we don't sell the books. Instead, we provide a link (mostly to Amazon) where the customer can go and purchase the books. Nevertheless, in the near future, we will be listing the books for sell on our website, and we will retain a fee for selling the books. When we do decide to start selling them, we will contact you first with the information and the new contract.

I am trying to decide which publisher I want to go with. I like your prices better, but at the same time, I am thinking about going with a larger publisher. Be honest. Wouldn't it be more beneficial for me and my book if I went with a larger publisher?

Answer: This is the million dollar question that many authors have to take into consideration, but the truth is...you are self publishing your book, so it doesn't matter which publisher you go with. A self published book has to be self promoted, and you; the author, has to do most of the work involved. And truthfully, you stand a better chance of being noticed going with a smaller publisher than with a larger one because with larger companies, books often get lost in the sea of other books. Smaller companies tend to pay more attention to the books they have, and the details associated with those books.
